It sounds very pretty when one says that "the great common people" of Kentucky should be present in large numbers at the polling-places and at the meetings of the Election Boards to see that their votes are counted as they were cast. But it was for doing—or attempting to do—just this very thing that a fraudulent Contest Board at Fankfort hrew out the entire vote of the city of Louisville and of several counties throughout the state. And the city of Louisville and of several counties throughout the state. And it was for going to Frankfort and hold-ing a peaceable and orderly meeting to protest against the robbery of fiteir cotes that the "mountaineers" have been denounced in such unmeasured terms. The factual majority was $7,000; it was written in the returns made to the Goebel managers two weeks prior to the elections faction was used in a vain endeavor by illegal means to wipe out his majority. Folled in that attempt by the determination of the people, the conspirators made another effort to override the people and to reverse their will. Judge Pryor and Captain Ellis refused to be a learning to this conspiracy, and gave the party to this conspiracy, and gave the Poyntz, who delared that he never had voted for a Republican and never the devised under the law sufficient to would. Thwated here, the conspirators made another appeal, in this interest made another appeal, in this in-
